

JUVENILE DIABETES RESEARCH FOUNDATION'S “SWING FOR THE CURE” CELEBRITY GOLF TOURNAMENT

At the recent Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF) “Swing for the Cure” celebrity golf tournament hosted by Dallas Cowboys legend Cliff Harris, several hundred thousand dollars was raised. All proceeds go towards funding research for the cure for Type 1 diabetes. As the largest charitable funder and advocate for Type 1 diabetes research, JDRF’s primary mission is to find a cure for Type 1 diabetes and its complications.

From left to right: Former Dallas Cowboy Walt Garrison; Dallas Cowboy & Ring of Honor member Lee Roy Jordan; Denise Lyman, President, Paramount Communications, Inc. & JDRF Executive Board; Rob Delph, JDRF Executive Board; Cliff Harris, Dallas Cowboy Ring of Honor, Swing for the Cure chairman; Tommy Harris